HAPPY NEW YEAR

School By-Law Vote Looms Early In 1950

As Result of Parley
With Dept. of Education

Ratepayers in the northern portion of Saanich Municipality and those whose property lies in the unorganized North Saanich territory will have the opportunity of voting early in 1950 on a new school building by-law.

Members of Saanich School Board have conferred with representatives of the provincial department of education on what can be done to solve the problem of the critical school shortage throughout the district. Only a few weeks ago ratepayers turned down the school building program by a narrow margin. Result of the deliberations has been general agreement that another by-law must be presented for the approval of the ratepayers as soon as possible, differing slightly from that which was voted on on December 10 of this year.

To Meet January 9

Members of the School board will meet on January 9 to review the situation and arrive at a final decision. It is considered imperative to have some additional school facilities available when the fall term of 1950 commences. Sharply increased school population throughout the district has caused the congestion.

Some changes in the proposed new high schools will be adopted before the new by-law is presented. The Review is informed. But approval of ratepayers will be sought for the same new schools and improvements to existing structures which were outlined in the previous building program.

New assessment figures will be operative in 1950 and this will have the effect of lowering the share of the unorganized rural territory in paying for the educational improvements.

New Teacher

An additional teacher has been employed to bring the total teaching staff of Mount Newton school to 11. She is Miss Alice Cortus of Mission, B.C., who will be in charge of girls' physical education and the school's grade seven.

SIDNEY FREIGHT CHANGES HANDS

H. H. Shade and his son, H. D. Shade, have acquired the entire business of Sidney Freight Service, Ltd., well-known North Saanich trucking company.

The business was started in May, 1919, by R. B. Brethour and H. H. Shade, who both came to this district as railwaymen. The transport line has been operated continuously since.

Mr. Brethour disposed of his interest in the firm in 1946 and it has since been operated by Mr. Shade and Mitchell and Anderson Lumber Co.

A Native Son

Mr. Shade has been a resident of this district for the past 41 years. His son, who is associated in the operation of the business with him, was born here.

The business will be operated as in the past with a fleet of eight trucks. A transport line links Sidney and Victoria while the firm specializes in the handling of sand, gravel, coal, stove oil, etc. Sidney Freight Service Ltd., is one of the largest employers of labor in the district, a total of 14 being on the payroll at present.

NO "JOTTINGS" IN THIS ISSUE

The Review regrets that this week's copy for "Jottings From June" has not been received from England up to the time of going to press. The delay may have been caused by heavy Christmas volume of mail from the Old Country. The serial which has been widely read, will be resumed as soon as more material is received in the newspaper office.

Year 1949 Proved Eventful One For Residents Of This District

Prepare To Greet Baby New Year

These are the dying days of the Old Year 1949. The shortest day of the year, Dec. 21, is now long past. Christmas Day has been celebrated in traditional fashion and scores of plump turkeys and all the trimmings have been enjoyed on dinner tables through the area. Next most important landmark of the district is the arrival of the Baby Year 1950.

GREETINGS

This district closed up shop on Saturday, Dec. 24. Christmas was observed on Sunday while Monday and Tuesday were marked as holidays as well. Ordinary commerce and industry will proceed until New Year's Eve and the New Year will be given a warm welcome at midnight Saturday night. Monday will see all business suspended again, as the legal aspect of the holiday is marked. School children are enjoying their annual mid-winter holiday and schools in this district will re-open on Tuesday, January 3, 1950.

This is the time of resolutions and of the traditional wish of "Happy New Year."

A Christmas Story

Carollers Aid Children In G.B.

THE Review has been presented with a handsome cheque and there's an interesting Christmas story behind the presentation.

A group of local songsters were banded together early in December under the direction of Mrs. L. B. Scardifield. They took the name of "Sidney Carolers" and prepared to spread musical cheer during the Yule season. The Review was given the privilege of naming the organization which would benefit from the financial returns of the carolling. It was decided that the Sidney ladies' "Save the Children" fund was a worthy one and should be assisted in this way. The children's organization, headed by Mrs. J. N. Bray of Robert's Bay, has "adopted" two little girls in Great Britain and sends them clothing, food and other necessities regularly.

A Handsome Sum

The Sidney Carolers walked many miles and sang most willingly during the busy pre-Christmas season. They earned the gratitude and admiration of many North Saanich householders and their fund swelled rapidly. A total of $46.30 was realized and the cheque for this amount has been handed to The Review to be turned over to Mrs. Bray.

Members of the Sidney Carolers included: Major and Mrs. L. B. Scardifield, John Beaven, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boshier, Miss Elizabeth and John Boshier, Mrs. M. Connor, E. Eykermans, Mrs. N. Greenhill, Mrs. Horth, Miss Edith Smart, David Smart, Mr. and Mrs. O. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Vicker-O. Thomas, Mrs. P. Warner, Mrs. D. Webb and Mrs. W. Wood.

The Review has been asked to express the thanks of Mrs. Scardifield to the voluntary assistance of the Carolers, to those who provided transportation and to the many residents of Sidney and district who gave the Christmas "waits" such a warm welcome.

The Carolers ended their season on Dec. 23 with a gay party in their honor which claimed Miss Clegg of Fifth Street as hostess. During the party the collection box was cut open by Major Scardifield after the Carolers had all made guesses as to the amount. The guess of John Bevan, of Third Street, was the winning one.

FISHERMEN BENEFIT

FROM EXTENSION OF 1949 SEASON

Nearly $100,000 worth of salmon were taken in the Satellite Channel by gillnetters during the last three weeks of fishing in those waters this season. This figure represents a catch that has not been fished in previous years. The bulk of the catch was sold in American ports, thereby not only benefiting the Gulf Islands and North Saanich but the nation as a whole.

Commander F. B. Leigh, secretary-treasurer of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, announced last week that the request of his chamber for an extended period in which to fish for the run of chum salmon in the Satellite Channel had been considered, and approved in part, by the minister of fisheries. The results of the extension this year were given at the same time. The announcement is gratifying to the Chamber of Commerce as it represents the result of considerable work on the part of that body.

In March the fisheries committee presented a brief to the chamber on the commercial fishing season in the Satellite Channel. The committee expressed the opinion that the area was not adequately included in the Chum salmon area as the run of fish in the two areas did not coincide.

64TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Gilmour, of Galiano Island, are celebrating their 64th wedding anniversary today, Dec. 29.

They were married at Hull, in England, on Dec. 29, 1885. For some years it has been the custom of the family to celebrate the occasion by a reunion at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Gilmour.

Two of their seven children are resident on the island, Mrs. David Bellhouse and Mrs. C. O. Twiss.

The couple came to Galiano Island in 1912 and have lived there since that time. Capt. Gilmour will celebrate his 86th birthday on Jan. 9, 1950. They have 20 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

"Cappy" and "Granny" as they are affectionately known, are in good health and spend many hours talking long walks.

ONE CHRISTMAS BABY HERE

On Christmas Day a daughter was born to Mrs. H. G. Bradley of Sidney. The baby was born in the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The newcomer gains the honor of being the only Sidney baby to be born on Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley are well known in Sidney. Mr. Bradley is a member of the staff of T.C.A. at Patricia Bay airport. They reside

Two Elections and Other News Events Are Recalled

ON the threshold of a New Year it is interesting to look back over the past 12 months and note the achievements of the closing year. Two governmental elections have been held and have occupied a prominent place in the public eye. Numerous events have been of outstanding interest during the year and are now things of the past.

A glance through the files of The Review for 1949 gives the following list of notable incidents:

Jan. 5—Dr. Pearce, of the Dominion Astro-physical Observatory at Saanich, announces the discovery of a new star, named by him, "U.B.C."

Jan. 12—Saanich (No. 63) School Board opens arbitration with teachers on teachers' salaries.

Jan. 19—Percy Thorp succeeds Bert Sansbury as chairman of Saanich School Board.

Jan. 26—Galiano Island reports longest cold spell in history, with iced roads and closed schools.

Feb. 2—New freight service to Gulf Islands is inaugurated.

Feb. 9—School taxes in Saanich School District up by seven mills.

Feb. 16—Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce recommends incorporation of Sidney as a village.

Feb. 23—Hon. Mr. Mayhew announces $150,000 to be set aside for new high-speed highway to Patricia Bay.

A Daring Feat

Mar. 2—Bill Lumley, skipper of "Tallow 2" and secretary of Sidney Fishermen's Union, tows burning and sinking boat into shallow water at considerable risk to his own safety and that of his boat.

Mar. 9—Brentwood Aces win lower island men's Senior "B" basketball championship in game against Duncan.

Mar. 16—J. B. Acland elected president of Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce.

Mar. 23—Ratepayers of South Sidney area organize as Mount Newton Ratepayers' Association.

Mar. 30—Saanich Ward Six votes for session.

Apr. 6—Colin Mount and T. A. Millner re-elected to North Salt Spring Island Waterworks District.

Apr. 13—Bert Sansbury proposes divorce of Saanich Ward Five from Saanich School Board.

Apr. 20—George Baal elected president of Sidney Rotary Club.

Apr. 27—Mrs. Rogers, Henry Avenue, makes the first purchase of margarine in Sidney.

May 4—Schooner Altu holed in Active Pass.

May 11—Saanich Council votes against Ward Six secession move.

May 18—Premier Byron Johnson speaks at Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

SANTA'S HELPER AT BRENTWOOD

P. F. Benn, Brentwood Bay postmaster, was a busy man during the pre-Christmas rush, but still found time to help Santa Claus during his busy season.

To the Brentwood post office came a large number of letters in youthful handwriting, addressed to "Santa Claus, North Pole." Mr. Benn was young once himself and hated to think of the kiddies being disappointed.

So he made time to sit down and answer each of the letters. In this way, hearts of many Brentwood district children were gladdened during the Yule season. And his own Christmas was made brighter in this way.

Sidney Man Enjoys His Waterfront Home

W. E. Oliver Looks Back On Eventful Life On High Seas

In the 1870's there was no city of Vancouver. New Westminster was the capital city of British Columbia. Victoria was then the capital of Vancouver Island, a separate colony. It was in 1875 that the parents of W. E. Oliver first came to live in B.C. Mr. Oliver, Sr., was a native of Nottinghamshire, in England. The late Mrs. Oliver also came from England.

The pioneer couple settled in Moodyville, on Burrard Inlet, where Mr. Oliver's father was employed at the Moodyville mill in the capacity of engineer. A few years later W. E. Oliver, of Denoford Road, Sidney, was born and the family moved to New Westminster. Mr. Oliver attended school there.

He recalls the development of the Royal City. It became an important terminal while he was at school and he watched its progress.

Mr. Oliver remembers that it children when the first train arrived at New Westminster. The C.P.R. made its western terminal at that city before the track was laid to Vancouver. No boy attended school that day.

Free Ride

The next important occasion that Mr. Oliver recalls was the inauguration of the street car system. For the first few days he and his school friends all enjoyed free rides until the system was organized properly.

When the streets were first lighted the citizens of New Westminster and out on their own lights awaiting the switching on of the lights.

His early boyhood was spent mainly in roaming the waterfront and going aboard the boats in the harbor, explained the retired Sidney resident. His father was then engineer on one of the boats going up the river to Chilliwack.

It still stands out in his memory when his father took Mr. Oliver for a trip on the boat. The fleet of other countries overseas was an impressive sight. Fishing was hard work in those days. There were no gas engines to get up the river or against the tide. Each boat carried two men, who rowed to and from the cannery. A fisherman had to be muscular to carry on his trade when Mr. Oliver was a boy.

Apprentice

After his schooling was over Mr. Oliver went to the engineering works of Reid and Currie, in New Westminster. He served his apprenticeship at this concern. One of the founders, Mr. Reid, died recently in New Westminster at the age of 98.

Having finally qualified as an engineer, Mr. Oliver decided that he wanted to go to sea. Accordingly he left for England.

In London he obtained a job at the Albert Dock. At that time there was plenty of work converting ships to troopships for the South African campaign. After a

Christmas Concert Is Enjoyed by Members Of St. Paul's Church Sunday School

The annual Christmas tree sponsored by St. Paul's Sunday school was held Monday, Dec. 19, with E. R. Hall acting as master of ceremonies. Seating was taxed to the limit to accommodate parents and children who were all keenly interested in the lengthy program.

Following the singing of some carols the minister, Rev. E. S. Fleming, extended a hearty greeting and welcome to all, and offered a brief invocation for divine guidance and blessing upon the activities of the evening. E. R. Hall gave a genuine word of welcome to parents who had come with the children of the Sunday school, and expressed his appreciation to the loyal group of workers who assist him every Sunday. He then proceeded with the program which was enthusiastically received.

The primary department children led the way. The beginners, under the care of Mrs. Porter and Mrs. A. Menagh sang their song: "Ring Out the Beautiful Bells," which was followed by a series of songs and recitations by older members of the Sunday school: Judy Roberts, a recitation "Why We Like Christmas"; Jimmy Helps, song, "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer"; Eileen Gardner, piano solo; eight primary girls, a Christmas marching drill; boys of Russell Kerr's class, "Children's Christ."

Three primary children, a trio, "Away in a Manger"; Eileen Gardner, recitation, "Free Gifts"; Robert Fisher, violin solo; Jimmy Helps, piano solo; vocal duet, "We Three Kings of the Orient Are"; primary department recitation, "Wonder of Wonders"; four primary boys, song, "Jesus Bids Us Shine."

Song by Mrs. Porter's class of beginners, "I Heard the Christmas Bells"; Michael Deveson, recitation, "We Hear the Christmas Angels"; Ruth Gardner, recitation, "Forget Me Not"; Christmas carol by four boys, Norman, Jimmy, Roy and Douglas; Mrs. McKay, cello, group recitation, "Animal Story of Christmas"; Ronald Gardner, recitation; Megan Roberts, recitation.

Receives News From Former Resident

Miss Rosa Matthews, of Third Street, Sidney, operator of the Gift Shoppe on Beacon Avenue, recently received a letter from Miss Kinko Bala.

Miss Baba is the daughter of the former barber in Sidney, Mrs. Baba. For many years the Baba family lived on Fourth Street, near the Sidney Taxi. Mrs. Baba's husband was lost while out fishing.

During the recent war, when it was ruled that all Japanese should leave the coast, Mrs. Baba and her family were obliged to move inland. Miss Baba has kept in touch with Miss Matthews since that time. Miss Matthews believes that many residents of Sidney will be interested to hear that the Baba family has settled happily in Port William, Ontario.

ALEC FOWLER OF COAL ISLAND IS NEW PRESIDENT ROD AND GUN CLUB

Alec Fowler, of Coal Island, has been elected president of the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club by acclamation. At the same time L. Horne was elected permanent honorary president. At the general meeting of the club in the new club house, on Monday, Dec. 10, Bob Colpitts declined the presidency for a further term. Mr. Colpitts considered that it was time the club had a newcomer in the president's seat, he had occupied that position for two years. Members of the club expressed their gratitude to Mr. Colpitts for the work he has done while in office. He has been largely instrumental in bringing the club to its present sound state. Bill Hawkins, recently arrived from Connecticut, was elected to the vice-presidency. Secretary-treasurer is Dave Allen, and assistant secretary-treasurer is Art Deveson. Chief field captain is Joe Gibault. The finance committee consists of Art Gardner, Jim Westover, and John Gordon. Harvey Lutz and Bob Colpitts make up the grounds committee.

Christmas Services At St. Paul's United Are Well Attended

All services at the United church on Christmas Day were featured by special music and larger than usual congregations. The fact that morning services were held aided materially in enabling everyone to be seated comfortably. Seventy persons attended in the morning and 90 in the evening. The junior choir sang two anthems and G. Adair, visiting from Red Deer, sang "O Holy Night".

At the evening service the senior choir, seriously depleted through prevalent colds, sang two Christmas anthems. The minister gave appropriate messages at all services.

At Shady Creek, service was held at 10 a.m. where the junior choir led the service of praise, gave one anthem, and Mrs. E. E. Cunningham, leader of the choir, sang a solo. During the service, Karen Lee, nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Williams McDonald, East Road, was received in baptism.

Motor Licenses To Be Mailed In New Year

Motor vehicle plates and drivers' licenses will be obtainable by mail early in the new year. Notifications will be mailed as soon as the Christmas mail rush is over, officials of the motor license office announced last week.

The plates and licenses will not be available over the counter until February 1, 1950.

There are 218,000 notifications already prepared for mailing. All licenses and plates must be renewed by March 1. The new plates which are made in the provincial jails will be a switch of the present colors. Instead of black letters on a yellow background they will bear yellow letters on a black background.

Nephew of Towner Park Lady Named Nova Scotia Rhodes Scholar

Nova Scotia Rhodes Scholar for 1950 is Ian Henderson, of Coburg Road, Halifax. Mr. Henderson is the nephew of Mrs. Hugo S. Wood, Towner Park Road, Sidney.

Announcement of the award was made recently by the Nova Scotia committee of selection, following an all-day meeting to interview candidates.

The Rhodes Scholarship studies its holder to two years study at England's Oxford University, with a possible third year if conditions attending the scholarship are met. Under the will of the late Cecil Rhodes, founder of the scholarships, Canada may send 11 students to Oxford. Two Rhodes Scholarships are awarded in both Ontario and Quebec, one each in the other provinces, including Newfoundland, but excluding Prince Edward Island.

Island students must apply for the scholarship through either New Brunswick or Nova Scotia.

King's Graduate

Mr. Henderson graduated last year from King's College with Bachelor of Science Degree and high honors in chemistry. At present he is taking a Master of Science Degree in physical chemistry at Dalhousie.

He is an all round student and has long been active in sports at both Dalhousie and King's. He also was a member of the Quincellian Debating Society while at King's, and belonged to the Halliburton Club.

In 1947 he was on the Dalhousie track and field team and this fall played rugby for that college. During four years at King's he starred at basketball. Other sports on his busy program were badminton and tennis.

Wins Many Honors
Ian entered King's College from Queen Elizabeth high school in 1945 with a King's Foundation Scholarship, which he retained through his undergraduate course. In his second year he won the Bishop Blinney prize.

High standing in his studies brought other honors during the next two years. He won a Chemical Institute of Canada prize in his third year at King's and the next session gained a National Research Council Bursary.

With honors in chemistry he won the Governor-General's medal on graduation.

For two years he has instructed in the Dalhousie Chemistry Laboratory and plans to continue studying in physical chemistry at Oxford University.

Ian is one of the most popular students on the Dalhousie campus and has succeeded better than most in combining serious study with social and sporting activities.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO MEET IN VICTORIA
Convention of the B.C. Trustees' Association will be held in Victoria in 1950. It was announced that this would take place next October, at a meeting of the Greater Victoria School Board last week.

The date will coincide with that of the Canadian Education Association, which will also meet in Victoria next year.

KEATING
Mrs. K. Stanlake and her new baby son arrived home from the hospital in time for the Christmas festivities.

Misses Lillian and Gertrude Denrigh are visiting in Vancouver over the holidays as guests of their brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owen and son, from South America, have taken up residence at the former home of Percy Thorp on Central Saanich Road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holloway, East Saanich Road, have as their guests over the Christmas holidays Mrs. Holloway's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O'Halloran and daughters, of Snyward.

Miss Thelma Perkins, of Vancouver, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Pears, Keating Crossroad.

Mrs. Wm. McNally has as her guests, her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Wilson and sons, from Sooke.

DITCHES CLEAR MORE WATER

Considerable work has been carried out by the department of public works in clearing ditches in the North Saanich area. Many residents report that the heavy rains of the past week have caused little harm. Residents of the East Saanich Road, near Bazan Bay, have looked in vain for the customary torrent that pours down the road and empties itself into local gardens.

The work has been done by Bill Munro, department foreman, and his staff.

Community Club At Deep Cove Stages Concert

Deep Cove Community Club held its Christmas party at the Deep Cove school on the evening of Friday, Dec. 16.

Entertainment was divided into two sections. Games were played in the primary room and cards in the senior room. Most of the games were relays and played in teams. The two groups joined up for a supper which was followed by a singing song.

Winners in the section played whist were: Mrs. Ted Hay, T. Anderson and Mrs. Taylor. Cribbage winners were: Mrs. Aitken, Mr. Aitken and Mr. Stewart. Single winners in the games contest included: Mrs. Mollet, Mrs. Aitken, Mrs. Starck, Barbara Starck, Linda MacDonald, Robert McLennan and Diane Klarner.

To complete a highly successful evening the guests were entertained by the fine music of Mr. and Mrs. Klarner, Ted Hay, Gordon Hay, and Ken Mollet.

The guests each received a present.

Varied Concert At North Saanich High

A varied concert program marked the final day at North Saanich high school. The program opened with a quiz, with Mr. Cobbett as master of ceremonies, arranged as an inter-house competition. Honors were all even, eight for each house.

Other items included pianoforte solos by Norma Gunn, Peggy Woods and Bevin Gore-Langton playing one of his own compositions. A sketch, "Four's Company," was enacted by grade 8, and a playlet, "Higginbotham's Car," by grade 11. Tony Gambrell gave a monologue, "Albert and the Lion."

During the program Jim Elliott presented prizes to Don Potter and Louis Pastore, for winning the "Inkspot's" advertising contest.

Peggy Woods reported for the Red Cross, calling attention to a fine display of work in aid of the Junior Solarium and Veterans' hospital. Carol selections were given by grade 9, and assembly carol singing was enjoyed by all. Senior high closed with a dance Tuesday night, Dec. 20.

Good Progress Made In Laying Of Brentwood Water Line During 1949

The new year opens with good tidings for the residents of the Brentwood water area. The laying of the 10-inch supply line over the swampy area between West Saanich Road and the Maber Ridge has been completed. This work was done with a ditching machine and a certain amount of local labor. The trustees of the Brentwood Waterworks District report that work will commence shortly on the construction of the timber tower and wood stave reservoir on the Maber Ridge. The laying of the 8-inch water main, along the West Saanich Road, will also be started in the near future.

Major Problem

It was announced at a meeting several months ago that the part now completed would present the major problem in the construction of the project. In view of the low level of the land in that region over by the time of the heavy rains. Garner Bros., of Duncan, the contractors, have made good time to date, which bodes well for the remainder of the work.

At a preliminary meeting of the Waterworks District, some time ago, the hope was expressed that the system might be in operation by the middle of the year.

The trustees have placed an order with a British firm for 21,000 feet of 4-inch cast-iron pipe to complete the system along the main roads. Delivery is expected about the end of January.

G. V. Williams is acting as inspector for the engineer, Hugh Brockington.

SAANICH LISTED FOR ALLOCATION OF MONIES

The interim distribution of the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax has been announced by the provincial government. Of the $3,000,000 which is to be distributed among the cities, districts and villages of the province, $92,054 will be allocated to Saanich district.

We take this opportunity to thank everyone for their patronage during 1949, and offer our best wishes for

TOMORROW IS ONLY A VISION

THE Review has been presented with a very pleasing calendar for 1950. It is not an ordinary calendar for, in addition to setting out all the days of the New Year 1950, it provides some homely philosophy to make the living of those days brighter and better.

The following paragraph is taken from the calendar:

Yesterday is but a dream
And tomorrow is only a vision,
But today well lived
Makes every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day.
Such is the salutation of the dawn.

—From the Sanskrit.

Sanskrit is the name applied by scholars to the ancient literary language of India. It is the classical language of the ruling caste, a language related, as is now well known, to that of the ancient Greeks and Romans and to the tongues of western Europe. The Sanskrit alphabet consists of 50 letters, with 15 vowels.

Now it's a far cry from the life of the ancients in India to the lives of residents of this section of British Columbia today. Nevertheless the message which was written in the mystic East so long ago finds a considerable parallel here as the baby New Year 1950 is born.

This is the time of resolutions and planning for the future. This district has been tremendously favored by nature but there are many improvements which can be effected by man. United effort can bring a number of these into being in the New Year 1950. Some should have been accomplished during 1949 but the past cannot be relived—hope lies in tomorrow.

Highways are high in the priority requirements of this area. The end of 1950 should see the main road on Salt Spring Island completely rebuilt and cars travelling the new arterial highway linking Victoria and Patricia Bay Airport. Any suggestion of delay in either of these two projects should not be tolerated.

Existing roads should be repaired and put into first class condition. Modern hard-surfaced roads must be laid to connect newly-developed residential areas with main travel routes.

This district relies on ferries for its commerce and ordinary travel more than most sections of Canada. During 1949 protests have been voiced by responsible groups against existing ferry schedules. Authorities should hearken to these protests. Study should be given the ferry routes and schedules. Before the New Year is too far advanced, improved ferry services should be put into operation. Only by this step can the Gulf Islands and Vancouver Island become the one community which they are destined to be.

The tourists and the industry which they create should be better handled in 1950 than in any previous year. Here we find a complex problem but one which is not too difficult of solution. The tourist industry is one of the most lucrative in this district and it will repay all the thought and planning which may be put into it.

As far as North Saanich is concerned, it has a number of problems peculiar unto itself. The educational situation has not been clarified as the aged Old Year passes into the discard. The population growth of this area has been exceedingly great during 1949. The facilities for education of the children have not yet been extended. Solution of this problem must be found during 1950.

Construction of the long-needed breakwater at Sidney has not been started during 1949. This is deplorable. This immediate area cannot advance as it should until adequate marine facilities are provided. The money is available, we are informed. Nothing should block this project during 1950.

For much too long the need of a suitable nuisance ground has been felt in the North Saanich community. The present one in the heart of a growing community is a disgrace. If the citizens of this community greet the year 1951 without taking steps to eliminate this nuisance, we should all hang our heads in community shame.

If the residents of this area can get together and by united effort produce a community hall in 1950, they will have accomplished a great deal. The movement has been launched. Its fulfillment requires nothing but co-operation and a lot of hard work. Neither is difficult of attainment.

The Review wishes all its readers a Happy and Prosperous New Year. Some of the suggestions outlined above will undoubtedly aid in the attainment of happiness and prosperity. In its issue of this date one year hence this newspaper will again list the objectives which have been pointed to today. It devoutly hopes that the majority of these thoughts will have become concrete accomplishments long before that time.

He Spent Christmas in Hospital

—Colonist Cut

Christmas was spent by Norman C. Lunde, of Sidney, in the Veterans' hospital in Victoria. His wife and their two-year-old daughter were there to have dinner with him on Christmas Day and on New Year's Day they will dine with him again.

Mr. Lunde is suffering from a spinal complaint that he developed while serving in the R.C.A.F. overseas. After serving for a year and a half, as a wireless mechanic in the European theatre, he was invalided home in 1943. He then spent a couple of years in hospital until 1945.

For a year Mr. Lunde attended the Toronto Radio College. His ailment developed again and he was obliged to return to hospital. Since 1947 he has lain in the Veterans' hospital in Victoria. His back in a plaster cast, he is unable to move from his bed.

Despite the set-backs that he has experienced Mr. Lunde looks only to the future. His entertainment is bound up in the study of television. He has a collection of books on the subject and hopes to be able to practice his chosen profession next year. He has also spent considerable time in the study of mathematics. He cheerfully expresses the opinion that if the physical abilities are restricted the mental faculties must be increased to make up for it. He is "playing around with calculus."

Mr. Lunde has taken a correspondence course on television from Washington D.C. The course was arranged by the Department of Veterans' Affairs through the institutional training section of that department.

Mrs. Lunde, who is living in their home on Henry Avenue, is cheerfully looking after their house and their small daughter.

She is eagerly awaiting her husband's return home. In the meantime she spends as much time as possible at the hospital with him. A native of Saskatchewan, Mr. Lunde was an athlete. He was a member of the Wilkie ball team which won the championship of the northern section of the province. He was also prominent in football circles in his home town. He now follows these sports as keenly as ever by means of his radio.

Brentwood -- Its Story

HISTORY OF A SAANICH COMMUNITY

(By DOROTHY M. WORTHINGTON)

Tod Inlet and Butchart's Gardens
Tucked away at the southern end of Brentwood, at the head of the bay lie Tod Inlet and Butchart's Gardens.

Tod Inlet, a lovely little bay, where private fishing and pleasure boats lie peacefully at their moorings.

Butchart's Gardens, famous for its rock garden well known to all flower lovers on the North American continent.

In the first years of the 20th century the Tod Inlet Cement Co. started work in the same area where long before Wigglesworth had his lime kiln, and a few years later, about 1909 Mr. Butchart came from Owen Sound to take charge of the works.

Land and a small house were given to him, but at first he lived in Victoria and only occupied the house during the summer months.

Mrs. Butchart and her elder daughter were trained chemists and helped in the laboratory and the second daughter was the stenographer. The works grew, houses for the employees were built, and workers numbered over 200.

After a while Mr. Butchart built the present house—the gardens began to take shape, the name "Benvenuto" "Welcome" was given to the place and it became a centre of wonderful hospitality.

The gardens became famous and visitors from far and near arrived to see the flowers and the beautiful sunken garden.

The garden was first begun by Mrs. Butchart and originated in the quarry from which the limestone for the cement had been taken.

Of course there was no soil so all that had to be brought in—it came by boat.

The cement was always taken to Victoria and other ports by sea, and the boats brought back soil on the return journey.

As the garden grew, more gardeners were employed, and extra labor could always be obtained from the cement works for special heavy jobs.

When the gardens were at their prime a landscape gardener and eight others were employed, and all the cement work was done at Tod Inlet.

The former "Limekiln Rd." became Benvenuto Avenue and planted with Japanese Cherries. The cement paving was a piece of rush work done in readiness for a visit from Queen Marie of Roumania.

The pavement remains, but the queen's plans had to be altered and the visit was never made.

Shortly before the first Great War Mr. Bamber came and started cement works across the Bay at Bamberton on behalf of an English company.

During the war as work was slack the men came over and worked at Tod Inlet and Bamberton was more or less closed.

After the war the companies merged into the B.C. Cement Company, and gradually the work was moved across to Bamberton.

A small amount of work, drainage of three main groups, viz. tile, etc. is still carried on at Tod Inlet, and the houses are all occupied, and the post office still exists. Employees who live there and those who live in Brentwood go over to Bamberton every day in the company's boats.

Bamberton village lies directly opposite Brentwood, and its lights shine cheerily all night long at the foot of the Malahat.

Mr. Butchart died about 1943. Mrs. Butchart still lives in Victoria. The gardens are run commercially by the Benvenuto Seed Co., Tod Inlet, B.C., and may be seen at any time by visitors.

Reflections From the Past

20 YEARS AGO

The beauty parlor, which has been operated in Sidney by Miss Doris Blackburn for the past several years has been taken over by Miss Hazel Hill. Miss E. Warick will be in charge for the time being. Miss Warick is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hill.

Miss Edna Mollet, of Vancouver, is spending a few days with her parents at Fulford.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Isherwood and their son, Madison, arrived from Vancouver on Tuesday to spend a few weeks on Salt Spring Island. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cearley, Fulford Harbor.

At the North Saanich Service Club card party held last week 15 tables were in play. Winners were: Mrs. Quartermaine, Miss Clara Simpson, W. C. Clarke, Mr. Constable, Miss Katie Lorenzen, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. Wardle. Music was supplied by Mrs. Fike, Ted Wilson and Joe Wilson.

Participants in the concert at Mahon Hall, Ganges, last Wednesday included: Madame Bertucci as accompanist, Mary Hague, Arthur Robinson, Ivan Mouat, Eldeara Nelson, Dorothy Mouat, Annie, Billy and Jack Allen and Nancy Elliott.

Mrs. Gordon Dickson, of Victoria, is spending Christmas in Sidney as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White.

Mrs. Matthews and her son, Buddy, of Aberdeen, Washington, are spending the Christmas holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McKillican, Mrs. Matthews' parents.

Neil Fraser, evangelist from Detroit, Mich., and now well known in Sidney, will speak at the Sidney Gospel Hall on Sunday.

A number of new houses have been built on the road between Sidney and Victoria. There is no let up on building in a climate like ours.

25 YEARS AGO

The home on Third Street, Sidney, of Mr. St. Louis, was burned out on Saturday. After a fire had been reported and the brigade called to the rescue, Mr. Louis sat down to supper. The fire then broke out again and the house was destroyed. The owner was injured, internally, while attempting to salvage his effects.

Last Friday night in Sidney a fire occurred on the wrecked pile driver. Jim Reid was using a gas-torch when it exploded. He and Newell Copeland ran for safety. The latter, looking back, saw that his mate had run in the wrong direction and was trapped. Without regard to his own safety Mr. Copeland returned to the fire and carried out his companion. Mr. Reid was burned about the face and eyes. The second man was more severely burned. Both are progressing satisfactorily.

L. Liverside, late of England, has purchased the property at Ganges that belonged to the late Mr. Stanford on the Lower Road.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary at Ganges was held last Wednesday evening and the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. A. W. Collins; vice-president, Mrs. S. Holmes; secretary, Mrs. E. Walters; treasurer, Mrs. Speed; leaflet secretary, Mrs. H. Johnson; doreas secretaries, Miss Beddis and Mrs. Royal; literature secretary, Mrs. G. B. Young.

A pleasant evening was spent last Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Stanforth celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They were married in 1874 by Rev. McGregor, of Victoria. Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brethour, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brethour, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brethour, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brethour, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. James Mann, Mrs. Longworth, Mrs. McKail, Miss Elizabeth Brethour, Miss Dulcie Brethour, Philip Brethour and Raymond Brethour.

30 YEARS AGO

Those who took part in the carol singing at Sidney on Christmas Eve were: Mr. and Mrs. E. McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Simister, Mr. and Mrs. G. Anstey, Mrs. G. Hill, Miss N. Simister, Miss G. Simister, Miss J. Redman, Mr. Gorton and Mr. Crossley.

Iron Curtain it is a case of: Vote as we please and alas if you don't! The poet who chanted:

O Lord give vision to our souls,
And leave it with us at the polls,
Did not get far enough. He might well have added:

Pull that slungard from his bed
And put some wisdom in his head
To keep our country off the rocks
By filling up the ballot box!

Respectfully yours,

EVERLYN J. SMART.

Costly Codfish

(Hullfax Chronicle-Herald)
Time was when the "lowly" codfish was one of the cheaper articles of diet in this part of the world—cod, fresh, pickled, or dried.

But it isn't a cheap article of food anymore. According to market quotations, dry codfish is priced, retail, at 27 cents a pound, while fish; or 40 cents a pound with the bone removed.

What becomes now of "cheap" fish-and-chips or equally "cheap" codfish-and-park-senaps?

The retail price of codfish (dry) used to range from five to six and seven cents a pound. But today, this basic food is priced out of this market—"out of this world," as a new generation would say.

In this capital city of a fishing province, 27 cents a pound for ordinary dry codfish is pretty fantastic.

Those movie cowboys who would catch the rustlers sooner if they didn't stop so often to strum

Miss Jessie Mouat recently arrived from Coal Creek, B.C., where she has been teaching, to spend the holidays with her mother, at Ganges.

It is announced by Messrs. Davey and Hobson that a Packard six, 14-seat passenger car will shortly be added to the Flying Line fleet. Already in operation on this service are a Willys-Knight seven-passenger sedan and a Hudson super six.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, of Keating, who recently disposed of his property to a couple of returned men is moving to Victoria this week.

Wilfred Butler, of West Saanich, met with a painful accident last week while engaged in cutting logs. His hand was cut so badly that it required several stitches to draw the wound together.

The death of Samuel Spencer took place at his residence at Bajan Bay on Monday, Dec. 22. The loss of so well-known and respected a citizen is felt by all.

Mr. Anderson, of Victoria, has been appointed to teach the grade recently taught by Miss McLennan at Sidney; Miss Basset, also of Victoria, has been appointed to teach the junior grade, a post recently made vacant by the resignation of Miss Craig.

Miss Gwen Blizard has returned to Victoria after spending a week-end with her parents on Salt Spring Island.

Mrs. Smart, and her son, of Salt Spring Island, have gone to Vancouver to spend the New Year with Mrs. Pope, wife of the late captain of the Galiano.

WORLD INTEREST IN LONDON CATTLE SHOW

World interest has been aroused by Britain's first post-war Smithfield Show. During its week's run it was visited by buyers from Europe, South and North America, Africa, the Middle East and the Far East. Sweden, Holland and Australia were particularly well represented. A few hours before closing, attendance figures had reached a record level of more than 40,000. On the machinery side of the exhibition, overseas orders included one large contract for 1,000 farm trailer chassis for Denmark at a cost of £100,000 ($308,000 Canadian funds). This is stated to be a repeat order of a number of chassis previously supplied.

... Letters To The Editor ...

SAANICH CLAMS

Editor, Review,

Sir:

I am not fond of writing to the press but three items in your issue of December 14 prompt me, namely: "New Industry for Sidney", "Di-Vulvular Molluscs" and the passing of the late C. C. Cochran.

First I want to congratulate Gaydard and Levar on their new industry and to wish them every success.

The Saanich Cannery mentioned in the other two items has a soft place in my heart, as it was there that I first worked when I came to Sidney in 1910, and would you believe it? I worked for 20 cents an hour. I have watched the Saanich Cannery grow from the little one-roomed shack, where the cans were soldered by hand, to the fine modern building you will see at the foot of Beacon Avenue today. The employment grew from a few days at clam-time to almost steady employment for 50 or more and was practically the only industry Sidney had in the depression years.

Saanich-canned clams and canned fruits were known from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans until a few years ago, when a packing company bought out the Saanich Cannery Company, moved the machinery out and closed up the factory, to close out the Little Fellow.

Now, Mr. Editor, to make my point may I digress a little? I remember shortly after the Oliver government came into power, our member, the late M. B. Jackson, told us that the government had put on a heavy Wild Lands Tax to compel the speculator who was holding large blocks of land for speculation to either improve it or pay the heavy tax, and I think your Chamber of Commerce should get after our member, Mr. Ash, to work for legislation to compel these big companies to either keep their little industries going or pay a heavy tax if they close them. Sink them to the limit!

And may I suggest that your Chamber of Commerce get behind Gardner and Levar and endeavor to help them get the old Saanich factory back on its feet? I have quoted to us a one-room school at a cost of $20,000 ($19,000 actually, it does not sound as much), are we to assume that the other proposed schools represent the same ratio of expenditure in relationship to value for money?

We cannot continually ponder to the needs of youth which seems to be an ever-growing tendency. Certainly we must consider them, and provide them with reasonable facilities, but let them be reasonable.

So far as North Saanich is concerned one would think that much could be done with nearer half the amount of money than is proposed to be expended.

In considering the calculation of costs it would be interesting to learn whether the architects were given a free hand, or whether they were given ceiling figures which could not be exceeded. They do receive such nice fat professional fees according to the cash value of the construction.

In connection with expenditure of public monies in this district it is perhaps worth noting that the population appears to be coming with ample private incomes.

2—A large group of elderly retired Canadians who have worked hard throughout their lives. By thrift and saving as they went along have garnered funds for their days of retirement. Saving dollars for which they now only receive 60¢ value. Life savings diminished by inflation.

3—A smaller group composed of the workers of the district.

The most numerous and the most important group in this community I submit are those of the second group. They it is who provide most of the community with its livelihood, directly or indirectly. And even if we only consider them from a mercenary viewpoint they cannot afford the ever-increasing cost of taxation. Neither can the workers of the district.

Increasing taxation is surely going to lead us into the position which now confronts California. Taxation there has grown so heavy that many people are leaving, several having come to this area.

Let us be fair to all. When we have some real wealth in the community, either through the introduction

AN EQUINE "COUGAR"

At six o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, Dec. 20, Mrs. H. Cruickshanks and Miss Edna Bedford were in their car on the East Saanich Road. They observed the prints of a large animal in the light of their car. Both ladies immediately thought of a cougar. Filled with fear, they were reluctant to leave the car. Finally they took the plunge and entered Mary's Coffee Bar, their own establishment.

They later asked Monty Collins, of Sidney Taxi, to investigate the prints, which led from an adjacent house across to the airport. Mr. Collins returned and informed them that the prints were those of an unshod horse.

RECORD COAL EXPORTS
Britain exported more coal in October than in any month since the end of the war according to statistics issued by the United Nations Economic Commission. Her total of 1,580,000 tons, 43 per cent of the prewar average, was 170,000 more than the previous best in September.

Earliest polo match on record was played by the Persians.

A new 20,000-acre forest is to be created in Wales. The Forestry Commission have worked out a co-ordinated scheme which will be spread over the next 40 years. It is proposed that about 450 acres shall be planted each year.

Puppet Show Featured At High School Party

The North Saanich high school junior council sponsored a party for the grade seven, eight and nine students on Friday evening, Dec. 16. Miss Jean Johnson, council president, was in charge.

A highlight of the program portion of the entertainment was a puppet show given by Mr. Ball and his characters of the puppet world, led by a very life-like "Tony." Other concert items included a tonette octet by eight members of the grade seven class and choir numbers by grade eight. A clever monologue was given by Sheila English and grade nine presented selected songs.

Refreshments
Sit-down refreshments were prepared by Mrs. R. Dymond, Mrs. A. Aylard, Mrs. K. N. Sparks, Mrs. L. King, Mrs. P. Nicholson, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. C. J. Johnston, Mrs. O. Thomas and Mrs. Dads. These were financed partially by the P.T.A. Christmas grant, of $15, and partially from funds raised by the Junior Council.

Dancing followed supper with music by Bevan Gore Langton at the piano and the school record player.

C.P.R. Appointment

C. E. JEFFERSON

C. E. Jefferson, of Montreal, has been appointed vice-president of traffic of the Canadian Pacific Railway with headquarters at Montreal. Mr. Jefferson has been general traffic manager for the system for the last two years, and before that was freight traffic manager for 18 years. He succeeds C. A. MacNamara, who was elected president of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad, a subsidiary of the C.P.R. Both appointments are effective January 1, 1950.

VETERAN OF WAR TO STUDY SCIENCE

Alan Yeomans, of Brentwood, is studying for his bachelor degree in science. He recently commenced his studies at Victoria College.

Mr. Yeomans, a veteran of the recent war, was previously employed at the radio station on Sidney Island. The radio station is operated by the department of transport.

INTERNATIONAL AIR RACE

Representatives of the International Air Race Council are in London to discuss arrangements for the aircraft race from Britain to New Zealand. This is to take place in 1953 and the winner will receive a prize of £10,000 being presented by the New Zealand government. The De Havilland Aircraft Company have already arranged to enter for this contest. British European Airways now state that they may also be competing.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Is it worth while trying to keep in touch with all of our friends? Indeed it is! People are necessary to our success and happiness. We depend on them for help, understanding, companionship and appreciation. So to enjoy life to the full we should make a systematic effort to keep each fire of friendship aglow.

This may be done in several ways. For instance:

1. Make a list of all your friends and acquaintances, together with addresses. Keep it up to date.
2. Phone or write a note to at least one of these people each week. Even a brief note, containing just a couple of sentences or a clipping which you think may interest that person, is an effective contact-renewer.
3. Answer all your mail faithfully.
4. Ask people for information or get them to help you in other ways. They're glad to be of assistance—and every contact improves your relations with them.
5. Be helpful in every possible way to others.
6. Do your share of entertaining—with a plus, even if you can only do so on a very modest scale.

Follow this program and see how it adds to your enjoyment of life!

Have you been in touch with your life underwriter lately? Since you last saw him, changes may have occurred in your family situation which call for changes in your life insurance program. He'll be glad to help you bring that program up-to-date.

Once again we greet the Newest Year . . .
and in doing so we send to one and all our heartiest Good Wishes for 1950.

The Wise Gardener

Notes From Saanich Experimental Station

Deer are often classed as one of the worst garden and orchard pests. Many devices, not forgetting 22's, shotguns and rifles, have failed to give any satisfactory control.

Now for the harassed gardener there is a ray of hope in a new repellent product, which chemically is zinc dithiocarbamate-ammonium complex and polyethylene polysulphide, which of course should be repellent enough for either man or beast. Fortunately a shorter name has been coined—good-rite Z.T.P. The material is readily applied in liquid form. It is still in the experimental stage but some preliminary reports are encouraging. It is being tested locally. It is not 100 per cent satisfactory from the gardeners point of view as plants should not be sprayed shortly before consumption, and deer will eat a few plants before they find sprayed material too distasteful.

For many years the loganberry and Himalayan blackberry were the chief brambles grown in this coastal area. Then the boysenberry has been claiming its share of attention because of its quick-freeze quality and size. Everyone is familiar with the good qualities of the common wild blackberry or dewberry. These same qualities are carried in large measure in two rather new varieties under name of Cascade and Pacific. These two berries are very similar, somewhat smaller than the logan in size but very prolific. For those wanting a berry with a distinct wild dewberry flavor these should be considered.

At this season of the year one is inclined to seek the comfort of the fireplace and a good book during the long evenings rather than to think about and plant gardens. However, there is another season just around the corner and it won't be so very long before the planting season will again be upon us. In short, there will never be a better time to plant next year's vegetable garden than right now. In this area, where we can aim for a 12 months' supply of fresh vegetables, sound planning is doubly important. Arranging the garden isn't so difficult either, if you put your plan down on paper, and allocate the available space to the vegetables of your preference, taking care to allow them space in proportion to their relative yielding abilities, nutritional value and appeal to your personal taste. In the weeks to follow hints will be given and some of the essentials of a good garden plan, such as relative amounts to grow, succession cropping, planting arrangement, varieties and times of planting.

King Alfred daffodils blooming in the greenhouse now with 18-inch stems, 2-inch trumpets and 4-inch parianis, is the Station's best record for early greenhouse flowers of this variety. First flowers opened December 6. This has been made possible, above all else, by paying strict attention to the temperature requirements of the bulbs, starting back in early August. At that time the mature bulbs were placed in a temperature of 48 degrees F. These were planted one month later but still kept at 48 degrees F. until early November. At that time they were brought in the greenhouse and grown at a night temperature of 63 degrees F. Now you know how to put a touch of spring in Santa's hand.

Poultry—Feeding the Laying Flock

To obtain the most satisfactory egg production from the laying flock, a feeding program must be established which will produce results. The feeding program should be adapted to changing conditions of the weather and the season. There is a direct relationship between the amount of feed consumed and the number of eggs laid. Thus a drop in the amount of feed consumed is followed by a drop in production. To avoid this, the feed should be checked daily. By keeping a record of the total feed consumed the poultryman can help avoid a drop in egg production. Below is a guide in regard to the daily feed requirement of both light and heavy breeds, if the birds are in good condition. Feed all the laying mash the birds will consume; keep water and shell before the birds at all times. Feed grain on different rates of production as follows:

Grain Required Daily for 100 Layers
Per Cent Production	Light breeds lbs.	Heavy breeds lbs.
10	10	13
20	10½	14
30	11	14½
40	11½	15
50	12	16½
60	13	18½
70	14	20½
80	15	22

The weight and condition of the birds should be checked at two week intervals. Experienced poultrymen can easily do this by checking the breast of a few birds in each pen while they are on the roost at night. Those not experienced can band a few birds and weigh them at night. If the birds are out of condition, feed daily a wet mash by moistening a portion of the mash with milk or water.

Saanich Fire Service Reports Heavy Year

Fire losses to date in Saanich in 1949 amount to $26,000. The Saanich Fire Department attended 326 alarms during the past year, announced Fire Chief Joseph Law last week. It has been the heaviest year in the 30-year history of the department, he stated.

In addition to the work entailed in the combating of fires the department is responsible for the inspection of many buildings and equipment, Chief Law stated. He quoted an example. In the past year there have been 870 installations of oil burners in the area. Each burner has to be inspected by his department twice. The department also inspects all Saanich's 500 public buildings. The chief spoke of the task as "overwhelming."

Canadian railways spend $2,889.06 per year in maintenance for every mile of track in the country.

SNOW SELLS SKID-CHAINS

A feature to the recent snow storms in the North Saanich area was the sale of skid-chains. A number of garages and service stations in the area report a greater sale of these items than has been recorded for many years. Several establishments sold their entire stock after having received extra supplies from their wholesalers.

Greetings to

FARMERS MERCHANTS CONSUMERS

YOU ARE THE BIG 3

HON. HARRY BOWMAN

Since becoming the Minister of Agriculture I have met and talked with hundreds of FARMERS, MERCHANTS and CONSUMERS, all the way from the Peace River area to the Kootenays, about food, its production, marketing and consumption in this Province.

The farmers' objective has been to offer the finest quality food, the merchants and other members of the trade offer every facility to assist in marketing a high grade product, and the consumer would prefer to "Buy B.C. Products," all of which is very gratifying.

Our variety of Agricultural production in British Columbia is immense. BULBS, FLOWER and VEGETABLE SEEDS, HONEY, BEEF, PORK, CHICKEN and TURKEY MEAT, MILK and CREAM, BUTTER and CHEESE, are among the high quality B.C. FOOD PRODUCTS the purchase of which will help their fellow citizen on the farm.

- Let the farmer continue to produce "finest quality."
- Let the trade continue fair practices.
- Let the consumer continue, and increase, her buying of B.C. grown products—she can be sure of good food.

In this way, by friendliness and co-operation, we can build a bigger and better province.

Mrs. Agnes M. McPhail, All Bay Road, Sidney, was fined $25 in Victoria Police Court last week. Mrs. McPhail pleaded guilty to driving at 63 miles per hour on the East Saanich Road.

HIS 22ND WINTER HERE

W. F. Gardner, wheat farmer of Harris, Sask., likes the winter weather at the Pacific Coast. He likes it so well that he's arrived to spend his 22nd winter season out here.

Mr. Gardner is a brother of J. S. Gardner, of Sidney, and he is visiting the latter at present. The Saskatchewan man homesteaded in that province more than 40 years ago and has continued his farming interests ever since. He recalled to The Review the early days when one man could not farm nearly the acreage that is possible today with modern agricultural machinery.

"I enjoy the growing season on the plains but I certainly like your winter climate here," he said. "I'll return to Saskatchewan in April as usual when the snow has disappeared."

MORE ABOUT FISHERMEN

The committee suggested that, as there is a heavy run of spring and coho salmon, both game fish, in the channel between August 15 and October 15, then it would be advantageous to close the area for commercial fishing between these dates. The suggestion went on that the season then be extended to the end of November to permit the catching of the run of chum salmon at this later period.

After investigating the incidence of fish in the area, the chief supervisor of fisheries, A. J. Whitmore, announced his findings.

The investigation showed that the number of boats fishing in the channel during the proposed closed period was so small that no action was merited. Prior to October 25 there were not more than two or three gillnetters engaged there.

As from that date a gradual influx of boats was reported until, at the peak, approximately 140 were fishing in those waters. This was during the middle of November, after the season is normally closed.

One Per Cent Coho

During that period an average of 55 chum salmon per boat was being taken. Coho represented less than one per cent of the catch. The closure of 72 hours each week, for escapement, was being observed.

The area was closed at 6 p.m. November 17. Between October 25 and November 17 approximately 75,000 chums were taken. These were largely sold to Puget Sound points at 10 1/2 cents per pound. The figures show a considerable income for the Gulf Island areas from a source that had not been drawn on until the Chamber of Commerce investigated it. The fisheries department noted that before this year not more than 50 gillnetters operated in this area.

HEAVY MAILS AT CHRISTMAS

Postmasters at Sidney and Saanich, Harold E. Kennedy and Capt. Nat Gray, respectively, report to The Review that the mail this Christmas has been heavier than at any time before.

Despite the extra staff engaged for the season it has been as much as the offices could manage to collect and deliver the large numbers of letters and parcels.

Capt. Gray said that he and his staff were at work until midnight on several occasions last week.

Mr. Kennedy expressed his gratitude to all patrons who mailed large quantities of mail in bundles. He explained that when the envelopes are tied together the work of the staff is reduced by half.

The rural mail carriers in these areas have had their hands full during the Christmas period. In many cases they have been obliged to make four or five times as many journeys as they make in normal times.

BRENTWOOD VETERAN CALLED BY DEATH

The death occurred at the Veterans' hospital in Victoria on Dec. 26 of Alfred Ernest King, 54 years, eldest son of the late Captain and Mrs. A. King. He was born in Cairns, Queensland, Australia, and had resided on Beach Drive, Brentwood, for the past six years.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Catherine, at home; also four sisters and one brother in North Vancouver. He served in World War One and with the First Canadian Seaforth in World War Two. He was a member of the Pacific branch, Canadian Legion.

Funeral services will be held in Sands Memorial Chapel of Chineses on Friday, Dec. 30 at 1.30 p.m. and interment will follow in St. Stephen's Anglican church cemetery.

LARGEST DOME IN WORLD

An aluminum dome measuring 365 feet across and 97 feet high is being built in Britain. It will form the central feature of the 1951 Exhibition, being staged on the banks of the Thames as a centrepiece of the Festival of Britain. Some idea of its size can be gathered by comparison with the dome of St. Peter's in Rome which has hitherto been the biggest in the world. This measures 136 feet across while St. Paul's in London comes a close second with a diameter of 109 feet. The Dome of Discovery, as it will be called, will be built without any interior supports at all. It will roof the most striking building in the exhibition—the one telling of Britain's pre-eminence in the fields of exploration and discovery.

SAANICHTON

Mrs. F. Stone, Penticton, arrived TCA Monday to spend the holiday week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart, East Saanich Road.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Stewart, Baring, Maine, are visitors in Saanich after a two months' motor trip across the States to San Diego and up the coast to V.I. where they are visiting with Mr. Stewart's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart, East Saanich Road. Ray Stewart is also a guest at the home of his parents, having arrived from Portland on Saturday.

Highlighting the social activities of Saanich, the annual Christmas 500 party was held Wednesday evening in the Agricultural Hall under the sponsorship of the Saanich Community Club with 33 tables in progress. Convened by H. Bickford, R. Crawford, G. Doney and R. Gidfrey, numerous door prizes were awarded and the following card players presented with prizes: ladies' first, Mrs. E. Mitchell; second, Mrs. W. E. Mitchell; third, Mrs. Baillie; gentlemen, first, Bud Mitchell; second, Mr. Pickles; third, R. Boutellier. Consolation, Mrs. Bryce and Carl Breitenbach. Turkey tombola: H. Troutman. Special prizes: W. Tapley, N. Foster, R. Woodward, F. McDonald, G. Doney and A. Anderson. Members of the junior boys' basketball squad, Rodney Hafer, Billy Richardson, Peter Young, Reg. Kerr and Barry Bickford assisted the conveners. Mrs. R. Nimmo was in charge of refreshments assisted by Mrs. Kerr, J. Wood, H. Wood, F. Wood and Olive Hawkins, and members of the junior girls' basketball team served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bickford and son Barry, East Saanich Rd., spent the Christmas week-end in Victoria.

toria as guests of Mrs. Bickford's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Burley and family, Oak Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Garrett and daughter, Sandy, of Yakima, Wash., are enjoying the holiday season with Mrs. Garrett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Young, Wallace Drive, Saanich.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bompas, of the Prairie Inn, returned to their home after visiting at Courtenay, V.I., where they spent the Christmas week-end as guests of Mr. Bompas' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lee.

The Fine Art of the Apothecary Has Not Been Lost

THE OLD APOTHECARY of other years was a mysterious and romantic figure. Under his magic influence, roots, herbs and minerals were turned into pills, extracts and plasters. The doctor's prescriptions were filled, the patient's health and comfort restored. Although much of the mystery with which he was surrounded has vanished, the fine art of the apothecary has not been lost. A visit to our prescription pharmacy will convince the most skeptical that his function is an important adjunct to modern medical practice. When you find it necessary to consult a physician, bring your prescriptions to us to be filled.

NEW VESSEL IS LAUNCHED

The "Saturna Maid" the boat which Dave Jack, with the help of his brother at times, has been building for the past two and a half years in Boot Cove, Saturna Island, is now launched.

She launched herself when no one was looking. The skids were all greased for the big event and Dave was about to tell his friends to come and watch, when the "Saturna Maid" slid gracefully in all by herself. She is riding beautifully with no list and needs only a bit of ballast.

She is an example of what can be accomplished with little cash but plenty of work and ability to stick with a job until it is accomplished. Dave Jack and his brother are to be congratulated.

School Christmas Party Is Held In Galiano Hall

On Monday, Dec. 19, the children's Christmas party was held at the Galiano Hall. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the parents, their children and friends and much credit is due the teachers, Mrs. Penrose and Miss Moses.

The program was opened with a speech of welcome by Eric Phinns. Several carols were sung by the school, followed by "The Christmas Bells" by the junior girls, "The Hop Scotch Polka" by eight girls and "The Cowboy Number" indicated that the school has talent that should be encouraged.

The Junior room also presented "A Christmas Tree," "Washing Clothes," and "The Four Big Hunters." Bobbie Bambrick, Ian Shopland, Jimmie Garner and Larry Scullars were the four hunters, excepting up on the bear—Jimmie Bambrick, Charmaine Cook and Ian Shopland gave a humorous dialogue "The Clever Doctor."

Pat McKenzie, Belinda and Beth Bellhouse and Donna King danced the Tarantella, "Madame Camellia's Beauty Parlor," a short play by the Senior room was well enacted.

The children were ably supported by Mrs. A. E. Scoones at the piano and J. McKenzie as master of ceremonies.

The program ended by singing the National Anthem. Then Santa Claus came to distribute the candy, oranges and many gifts placed under the tree. The costumes, scenery, hall decorations and generous refreshments indicate the interest of the local P.T.A. in the welfare of school children.

Capt. and Mrs. V. C. Best, "The Alders."

Christmas Party Is Enjoyed By Galiano P.T.A.

The Christmas Galiano P.T.A. held their Christmas Party Dec. 14 at Farmhouse Inn, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bellhouse. The association members from North Galiano were guests. The president, Mrs. Callaghan, opened the meeting by welcoming the guests. A short business period followed. The attention of the association was invited to the "Handbook" of Federation.

The meeting was entertained by the presentation of a short play by Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Dobb and Mr. Wharton. Mrs. R. Page and Mrs. Bambrick led in a contest identifying spices familiar in all kitchens; Mrs. Shopland was the winner. Mrs. Russell gave a humorous reading entitled "A Piece of Cheese."

After the distribution of gifts, refreshments were served.

On Jan. 7, a whist and cribbage party will be held at the Lodge, home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Robson, while on Jan. 18, a P.T.A. meeting is scheduled at The Haven, home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell.

Children's Concert Sponsored by P.T.A.

The school concert given by the children on December 19 was much enjoyed by children and adults alike and was one of the best held on Mayne Island.

The concert was opened by Alan Salmon who was one of the youngest children taking part in the Entrance Class and in a very clear and calm voice welcomed everybody in a nice address and in the end wished everyone a merry Christmas. Then came singing by the children and plays alternated by singing in which the audience was invited to join. Some nice dancing by four little girls followed and more plays, some of the young actors showing great ability.

The children entertained for about two hours and ended with hymns and carols. They were greatly applauded.

Then came Santa and to the children's great delight Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer, drawing a sleigh full of toys. This was excellently staged and he pranced about and wagged his tail to the great delight of the youngsters. After this, Santa called the children up to him and distributed toys and candies to all children on the island, and so ended a wonderful Christmas party.

There were cheers for the children and thanks for Mrs. Devereau who worked so hard in preparing the concert.

The United Nations/International Children's Emergency Fund has made mass purchases of powdered milk, meat, fish, and cod-liver oil in Canada.

UNITED NATIONS-1949

BERLIN CRISIS: The blockade of the former German capital ended in May after agreement of "Big Four" representatives to U.N. Negotiators were the United Kingdom's Cadogan (left); the U.S.S.R.'s Malik; the U.S.A.'s Jessup; and France's Chauvel.

CHINESE CONFLICT: First international airing of strife-torn China's political turmoil came in the U.N. General Assembly in October after T'ingfu Tsiang of China charged the U.S.S.R. with supporting Chinese Communist forces in their campaign.

CURRENCY DEVALUATION: The British pound, and subsequently, other currencies were devalued in September, following discussions with the International Monetary Fund. Shown at a Fund meeting are (left to right) U.S. Treasury Secretary Snyder, and Britain's Sir Ernest Rowe-Dutton and Sir Stafford Cripps.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE: World-wide interest during the year backed U.N. planning for technical assistance to countries trying to develop their economies. How technical aid could improve peoples lives is seen in this picture of a Chinese farmer learning from an expert a new way to get more from his harvest.

SOME WILL REMEMBER 1949 primarily as the year in which it became general knowledge that at least two nations now possessed the "secret" of the atomic bomb—in which, therefore, the atomic age really began. Others may prefer to remember it as the year in which a better recognition that conciliation and compromise are essential to a secure peace began to spread through the minds of people everywhere.

Whether or not the diffusion of atomic knowledge will end only with war and destruction for all nations, or will be used for the benefit of mankind, is a question of tremendous social, political and historic significance. Also significant, however, is the fact that, during 1949, the peoples and representatives of 59 United Nations began working toward a fuller realization of the ideals proclaimed in the unprecedented Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

In many ways 1949 was a year of troubles and of fear and worry, like the other years since World War II ended in 1945. But several events and trends made 1949 a more hopeful year than any of the previous three. Not only was world peace maintained, but several international conflicts, each capable of setting off a major war, were effectively settled, or at least eased, during 1949. Among such peaceful adjustments were the settlement of the Berlin deadlock, announced from United Nations headquarters in May; the acceptance of the new Republic of Israel as a full member of the world community; the creation of a new and sovereign United States of Indonesia, after mediation by U.N.; the cease-fire agreement effected under U.N. auspices between India and Pakistan in the dispute in Kashmir; and action on the future of the former Italian colonies by the U.N. General Assembly.

Some day, the year 1949 may be regarded as the beginning of a new era. It could be an era of growing fear and tension—ultimately, perhaps, leading to catastrophe—or an era of increasing international cooperation in all fields of human concern. Whichever it is, the successes or failures of the United Nations will have a lot to do with it, for U.N., and its Specialized Agencies, even during 1949, were already involved in nearly every major international action, event or decision.

POLIO EMERGENCY: Severe outbreaks of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) were recorded during the summer in India and the U.S.A. The U.N. World Health Organization helped India meet its emergency by rushing iron lungs from the United States by air. Here India's Health Minister demonstrates one in operation.

The devaluation of the British pound and subsequent devaluation of 26 other currencies, for example, was an event which reflected significant changes in the traditional patterns of world trade. But these devaluations were effected in agreement with a U.N.-affiliated Specialized Agency, the International Monetary Fund.

In the political field, one of the major events was the conflict between Yugoslavia, itself a Communist state, and the Soviet Union. But one of the most intense moments in this controversy was played before the U.N. General Assembly in New York, when Yugoslavia was elected to the Security Council over Soviet opposition. The Chinese Civil war, directly affecting about one-fifth of the human race, was also brought to U.N., when representatives of China's Nationalist government charged the U.S.S.R. with having aided the Chinese Communist armies.

The year was also the one in which the Atlantic Pact was signed—a pact which, its members declared, in debates at U.N., was purely defensive and would strengthen collective security in conformity with the U.N. Charter, while its opponents denounced the treaty as an aggressive military alliance in violation of the Charter.

Hunger, want and social insecurity were prevalent in 1949 in most of the inhabited areas of the globe, just as they always have been. But here again, U.N. itself and the UN Specialized Agencies were busily at work, planning a world-wide program of technical assistance to under-developed areas, adopted in the autumn by the U.N. General Assembly; the establishment of an International Clearing House for such commodities as food; and a series of loans from the International Bank to aid various nations on long-range projects of economic development.

Thus a review of the major international events of the year becomes, almost automatically, a review of events under the United Nations flag, mirroring the extent to which the world's hope for peace and a better life are increasingly becoming dependent upon a flourishing United Nations.

CROP SURPLUSES: With fine harvests came warnings of "surpluses" in the "dollar area," because "soft currency" nations lack exchange for food imports. To help eliminate "surpluses" while millions go hungry, the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization proposed a unique, new International Commodity Clearing House.

pointment as junior engineer aboard a ship carrying troops and stores to the Boer War theatre.

Later his ship was engaged in carrying mail from New Orleans and transporting prisoners to the Island of St. Helena, which was being used as a prisoner of war base at that time. When the Boer War had run its course and peace had "broken out" again Mr. Oliver came back to the coast to spend a holiday with his parents. For about three months he was in New Westminster.

Finally he set out for England again. He spent a pleasant holiday in New York on his way to London. When he arrived in that city he learned that jobs were no longer so easy to get. After a time he eventually found a berth

as fourth engineer on the Elder Dempster line. He was running to Montreal. Later the C.P.R. bought out that line and he remained with it for few trips. He was then in the Monterey. All the ships on that line were then the "Lake" class boats and the "Monts".

Shipwrecked

The Monterey was a passenger and cargo vessel. In 1903 the Monterey was wrecked off the Island of Miquelon. This island lies off the coast of Newfoundland and is a French possession.
The cause of the disaster was the failure of the Miquelon lighthouse to sound its foghorn. When the crew of the ship managed to land on the island they discovered that the lighthouse keeper had run out of coal and was unable to get up steam to operate the horn.

Besides cargo the Monterey lost about 800 cattle. Mr. Oliver explained that the cattle were turned over the side but it is a characteristic of the animals that they are not able to make their way to the shore. Although they can swim, most cattle will head out to sea and drown when they are spent. Of the cattle on board only 600 were saved. Mr. Oliver remarked that these figures are as near as he can recall.

The sailor then transferred back to the Elder Dempster Company and called for a few years on the run from Canada to South Africa.
From South Africa they would go on to Australia or wherever trade might call them.

Back in B.C.

In 1905 Mr. Oliver took his Board of Trade First Class certificate. After qualifying he returned to British Columbia and joined the British Columbia Coastal Steamship service. He was with that service from August, 1905, until June, 1940, when he retired due to ill-health. During the first years of his engagement with the
B.C.C.S. in 1906, he was married.
Mrs. Oliver is a native of Bristol,
England.

In 1924, Mr. Oliver went to Glasgow to join the Princess Kathleen as chief engineer. He held this position until his retirement.
Since 1940 Mr. and Mrs. Oliver have a comfortable home on the water,

YULE VISITORS ON PENDER

In many parts of the world, holly and snowbanks are symbolic of the gay, Christmas season.

On Pender Island the Yule festivities are enlivened by roses and humming birds.

The Review is informed that in the Pender Island garden of Dave Menzies, a number of humming birds have been noticed among the roses this week. The humming bird usually seeks a warmer climate to celebrate the Christmas season and the occurrence is considered highly unusual.

Through contributions made to "UNICEF, Ottawa," Canadians are helping to feed 4,000,000 sick, hungry and destitute children in Europe alone.

The Kenwigs In Action

The artistic and very genteel family of Kenwigs has made its appearance in Charles Dickens' Nicholas Nickleby, adapted for radio by Tommy Twedd. The broadcasts are heard Mondays at 8.30 p.m. on the Dominion network. In the picture, a pen-and-ink drawing by "Phiz" from the first edition of the novel, Nicholas watches from the background (left) while his new friends, the Misses Kenwigs, work off some of their boundless energy on their father (left) and Uncle Lillyvick (right). Mrs. Kenwigs looks on.

The occasion was the eighth anniversary of "that happy day on which the Church of England had bestowed Mrs. Kenwigs upon Mr. Kenwigs, the ivory turner, and in grateful commemoration of the same, Mrs. K. had invited a few select friends to cards and a supper." Before the party broke up, Nicholas found himself employed to tutor the four Kenwigs daughters "in the French language as spoke by the natives."

In and AROUND TOWN

John Bevan and Alf Mendels of the Sidney Bank of Montreal staff flew by TCA to Vancouver where they spent Christmas.

Miss Sheila Bushey, member of the teaching staff of the Lord Byng school at Steveston, B.C., is spending the Christmas season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bushey, San Juan Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. James entertained friends at their All Bay home on Christmas Eve at a gay Yule party. Their home was attractively decorated for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gurton, East Saanich Road, entertained at their annual dinner on Christmas Day. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alec Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Jones, Douglas and Lois, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Primeau and Ian.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Harrison, of Victoria, were Christmas visitors with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cross, Lochside Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Baal and family, of Vancouver, spent the Christmas season with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Baal, in Sidney.

Commander F. B. Leigh, secretary of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, has been confined to his home through illness for several days.

Mrs. C. C. Cochran, who experienced a fall at her home last week, is a patient in the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria. Her condition is not serious but she will undergo a slight operation.

She is expected to be in the hospital for the next ten days or so. Mrs. Cochran's sister, from Halifax, N.S., is expected as a visitor to Sidney within the next few days.

Due to its inability to resist rust, the well-known Marquis wheat has yielded its position of popularity to Thatcher, Renown, Regent, and Apex, all rust resistant.

The worst thing about success is that it won't stay put.

Widow of Builder of Sidney Church Passes Away in Victoria

Mrs. Lucy Arletta Flinton passed away, in Victoria, last Thursday, Dec. 22, at the age of 81.

Mrs. Flinton was the widow of Canon J. W. Flinton, who was associated with the Anglican church on Salt Spring Island and at North Saanich for many years in the past.

Canon Flinton was in charge of the South Saanich parish before the First World War. During this time he built St. Andrew's church in Sidney, about 1912. The North Saanich area at that time came under the South Saanich parish. The canon resided at St. Stephen's on Mount Newton Cross Rd., Saanichton, and held services in Sidney school until the church was built. He also preached at Holy Trinity church, Patricia Bay.

At Salt Spring
Canon Flinton then moved to

80th Birthday Of Sidney Lady

Mrs. E. J. Wakefield, widow of the late W. Wakefield, former publisher of The Review, celebrated her 80th birthday on Monday of this week at the Fourth Street home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wakefield. Mrs. Wakefield was born in Surrey, England, and came to this country in 1909 residing in Winnipeg, Man., until 1922, when she came to Sidney with her husband and after a period of two years took up residence in Victoria. In 1926 Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield returned to Winnipeg where Mr. Wakefield died in 1928. Mrs. Wakefield later resided in Calgary for a number of years until her return to Sidney last year.

The aged lady was visited by numbers of friends on her birthday who came to wish her many happy returns of the day.

Salt Spring Island where he was vicar of St. Mark's and Salt Spring Island parishes.

Mrs. Flinton was also closely connected with church work for more than 50 years.

Mrs. Flinton is survived by two sons, Austin William of 2640 Heron Street, Victoria, and John Norman Flinton, Ladysmith; two daughters, Mrs. Winifred May Allberry, Courtenay, and Mrs. Hilda Mary Merriman, 1820 Hollywood Crescent; a sister in Yorkshire, England; relatives in South Africa and England and ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The funeral service was at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Saturday, Dec. 24, when Rev. Douglas Kendall officiated. Burial followed in the family plot at St. Luke's cemetery, with Rev. Frederick Pike taking committal service.

IN LONDON

Frank L. Godfrey, well-known Sidney businessman now on an extended trip abroad, recently signed the register at British Columbia House in London.
